

Lola

Just thought you would like to know that Lola is doing great.

We couldn't have asked for a better dog. She certainly keeps us amused with her playfulness. She has turned into a TV addict. She is constantly watching and of course if a dog appears on the screen, she wants to play with it or get it; not sure which one. Our 27" has already landed on the floor, so now we have some green people in the upper corner of the TV. It was so funny the day she pounced on the TV.

She does a good job of protecting the house during the day. I'm sure a stranger wouldn't dare to venture in. Her bark is quite fierce but what they don't know is how affectionate she is! Hope all is well with you!
